

How to Find an Affordable Photographer

You want quality photos. You don't have a big budget for that. Maybe you have a special reason for wanting those photos, and you can't seem to find anyone that you can afford. Here are some tips for finding someone you can!

Average Cost

ON average, photographers charge around $130 for an hour session, with low-end cost being $50-100 and high end being $200-350. *

Tip 1: Rexburg Photographers - Instagram

One of the best places to look for photographers is Instagram. Try searching Rexburg photographers, and when you find one, look at who they follow.

Tip 2)

Not all photographers will have their prices on Instagram, although most have them on their website. One way to tell more affordable photographers on Instagram is to look at their follower count! The fewer the followers, typically the less they cost.

Tip 3: Don't compromise quality.

A lot of photographers who don't have a lot of followers and are affordable aren't going to give you quality photos, but some will! Look for people who can give you quality pictures for a low price. (see my blog post, 4 Things to Look For in a Good Family Photographer**)

Tip 4: Try a Mini Session

A lot of photographers offer 30-minute sessions, which naturally cost less. You still have to watch though - some people charge $200+ for a 30-minute session!
